1. Is the site mobile-friendly?
  - No, the mile high comics website is not mobile-friendly.
2. What problems are reported?
  - The reported problems include clickable elements being too close together, the viewport not being set, and the text being too small to read.
3. View the page on your own mobile device. Do you agree that the problems reported by Google are truly problems?
  - Yes, The issues highlighted by Google are quite evident and easy to spot.
4. Do you think the reported problems would be easy to fix? Or would they be cost-prohibitive? Why do you think that?
  - I believe the reported problems could be relatively easy to fix and may not be cost-prohibitive. They could likely be addressed in a day.
5. Would you recommend the reported problems be fixed? Why or why not?
  - Yes, I would recommend that the reported problems be fixed. Doing so would improve the functionality of the site and potentially increase revenue.
